Scope and Content Note

These are the records maintained by the Chief Accountant of the Commission to track the Commission's finances and supervise its investigation of financial activities of individuals and corporations involved with workers' compensation cases.

Most of the records concern general and personnel administration, including: accountants' job application forms, letters, and resumes; personnel appointment and change forms; payrolls;

daily activity rosters of state troopers and detectives; accountants' case assignment schedules; budgets; tax withholding forms; travel orders and vouchers; purchase orders; information on and receipts for supplies; and paid and unpaid bills.

A small amount of records relates to financial investigations of physicians and others involved in compensation cases. These consist mainly of documents submitted to the Commission under subpoena, including: bank account statements; cancelled checks and check stubs; federal and state tax returns; and x-ray daybooks and x-rays.
