Scope and Content Note

This volume contains a manuscript copy of part of the State Engineer and Surveyor's 1851 annual report on canals. The annual report is a compilation of reports written by the state engineer and surveyor and by division engineers. The first report is an overview by the state engineer concerning construction completed; costs; estimated costs of needed work; and use of the canals. The division engineers' reports concern the sections they supervised, containing detailed tabular statements of costs and cost estimates for work on the canals.

The complete report was published as Assembly Document No. 1852, and includes a number of canal diagrams and several hundred tabular statements not in the manuscript copy. The copy does include all of the narrative sections of the report, with a few minor transcription errors.
