Administrative History

The Central Pine Barrens Joint Policy and Planning Commission was established in 1993 to develop and oversee implementation of a comprehensive land use plan that would protect the ecosystem, surface water, and groundwater of the Central Pine Barrens region of Suffolk County. The commission has the power to approve or disapprove any proposed development that may affect the region as a whole or involves portions of the region that have been designated critical resource areas.

In addition, the commission supports scientific study of the ecology of the Central Pine Barrens and promotes recreational activities within the region. It has also established three citizen councils designed to coordinate law enforcement, protected lands management, and fire control activities within the Central Pine Barrens region.

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of archival copies of the publicly accessible website of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission.

B2062-06: This accretion consists of a copy of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission site that was produced on December 20, 2006, shortly before Governor George E. Pataki (1995-2006) left office. It contains information about the location, history, and ecology of the Central Pine Barrens region, the text of the legislation (1993) that created the commission, the committee's land use plan (1995), development project information, and approved and disapproved land use permits (1996-2006).

It also contains activity reports, meeting minutes (1996, 1999-2006), and other materials documenting the work of citizen councils that coordinate law enforcement, fire management, and land management activities in the Pine Barrens region. Also included are agendas, flyers, posters, and other materials (1996-2006) relating to the annual Pine Barrens Research Forum, information about scientific research centering upon the Central Pine Barrens region, a guide (2003) to recreational activities, and information about the region's formal "twinning" relationship with Migliarino-San Rossore-Massaciuccoli Regional Park in Tuscany, Italy.

B2062-08: This accretion consists of a copy of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission site that was produced on May 9, 2008, shortly after the resignation of Governor Eliot L. Spitzer (2007-2008). It contains additional approved and disapproved land use permits (1996-2008), activity reports, meeting minutes (1996, 1999-2007), and other materials documenting the work of citizen councils that coordinate law enforcement, fire management, and land management activities in the Pine Barrens region. Also included are agendas, flyers, posters, and other materials (1996-2007) relating to the annual Pine Barrens Research Forum; information about scientific research centering upon the Central Pine Barrens region; a guide (2003) to recreational activities; and information about the region's formal "twinning" relationship with Migliarino-San Rossore-Massaciuccoli Regional Park in Tuscany, Italy.

B2062-11: This accretion consists of a copy of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission site produced on January 3, 2011, shortly after Governor David A. Paterson (2008-2010) left office. It contains information about the location, maps and charts, history, and ecology of the Central Pine Barrens region, the 1993 text of the legislation that created the commission and recent changes, the committee's land use plan (1995) and amendments (2004), development project information, and approved land use permits (1994-2010). It also contains activity reports, meeting minutes (1996, 1999-2007), and other materials documenting the work of citizen councils that coordinate law enforcement, fire management, and land management activities in the Pine Barrens region. Also included are agendas, flyers, posters, and other materials (1996-2007) relating to the annual Pine Barrens Research Forum; information about scientific research centering upon the Central Pine Barrens region; a guide (2003) to recreational activities; and information about the region's formal "twinning" relationship with Migliarino-San Rossore-Massaciuccoli Regional Park in Tuscany, Italy.

B2062-17: This accretion consists of a copy of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission site produced on January 5, 2017. It contains maps and charts of the Central Pine Barrens region, the text of the legislation that created the commission and recent statutory changes, the committee's land use plan (1995) and amendments made to it (2016), development project information, and approved land use permits (1994-2016).

B2062-19: This accretion consists of a copy of the Central Pine Barrens Joint Planning and Policy Commission site produced on November 15, 2019. It contains information about the location, history, and ecology of the Central Pine Barrens region and the commission's role in law enforcement, wildfire management, and land management activities. Also present are commission meeting minutes (1993-2019), Credit Clearinghouse Board minutes (1995-2017), annual reports (1993-2018), the commission's Comprehensive Land Use Plan, Compatible Area Growth Approvals and Denials (2001-2019), and Core Preservation Area Approvals and Denials (2001-2019). Researchers should note that approved land permits were removed from the live site some time before this copy was produced.
