Administrative History

The Commission to Modernize the Regulation of Financial Services was created by Governor Eliot L. Spitzer (2007-2008) in May 2007 (Executive Order 15) and continued by Governor David L. Paterson (2008-2010) in June 2008 (Executive Order 9). It was charged with reviewing current financial services statutes, regulations, and policies and proposing legislative and other necessary changes that would both promote competition and the growth of business, and protect consumers and honest businesses from unfair or unethical practices.

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of an archival copy of the publicly accessible website of the New York State Commission to Modernize the Regulation of Financial Services site produced on June 10, 2008, shortly after the resignation of Governor Eliot L. Spitzer (2007-2008). It contains information about the commission's members and staff, a draft State Insurance Department regulation (2007) outlining core principles for both the financial services industry and government regulators, and an interview (2008) in which the commission's chair outlines the commission's regulatory approach. Researchers should note that this site was removed from the live Web shortly after it was copied.
