Administrative History

Senator Thomas K. Duane, a Democrat, was first elected to the Senate in a special election in 1998. He represents the 29th Senate District, which consists of the following Manhattan neighborhoods: Upper West Side, Hell's Kitchen, Chelsea, Greenwich Village, East Village, Stuyvesant Town, Peter Cooper Village, and Waterside Plaza. He has served as Chair of the Standing Committee on Health (2009-2010) and as Chair of the Majority Program Development Committee (2009-2010).

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of an archival copy of the official website of Senator Thomas K. Duane produced on June 12, 2008, shortly after the resignation of Governor Eliot L. Spitzer (2007-2008). It contains biographical information, press releases (2008), monthly updates (2008) concerning Senator Duane's activities and issues of interest to constituents, photographs, and a map of the 29th Senate District.

Researchers should note that, owing to the structure of the live site and the limitations of Web archiving technology, most of the information contained within this site could not be captured properly. In addition, some of the navigational links do not work properly. However, identical sets of navigational links appear at the top and the bottom of each page. If the link in one set does not work correctly, click the Web browser's Back button and then click on the corresponding link in the other set.

Researchers should also note that Senator Duane apparently did not have an official website as of late 2006, when Governor George E. Pataki (1995-2006) left office.
