Scope and Content Note

This series includes annual, semi-annual, and quarterly reports produced by the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA). These documents provide status updates on NYSEDA's programs and strategies. While the annual reports provide more generalized information about NYSEDA's statewide initiatives, the semi-annual and quarterly reports include detailed updates about specific projects. Topics of note include the development of electric vehicles, research on renewable energy sources (focusing on solar and wind energy), and management of radioactive waste.
